Old Business:

Mark will call Spraymasters about defective paint coatings on street/stop signs. And, he will also call Charles Daughterly, the person who built the signs, for advice on repairing defective finishes. Contract with Spray Masters was 7-5-11. Repairs should be covered under warranty. Invoice was paid 8-5-11.

Homeowner, Glen Alden, described the creek water erosion problem on his property. Mark said he would call him to further discuss.

Mark contacted Lawn Works to turn on the sprinklers at all entrances, and they have done so.

New Business:

Mark reported that there are two dead trees along Harrodsburg Road's entranceway that KY State Highway Department originally supplied that will need to be replaced.

All other attendees asked questions concerning the presidency and secretarial vacancies. All agreed that many more neighbors need to be encouraged to participate in upcoming events. Chris Lee and Ryan Plummer pledged to assist in future events, but were unable to head a position at this time. Chris Lee said he'd call several neighbors to see what type of commitment he could get from them.

Everett and Sony were asked what specifically their job duties entailed over the years. And, they answered. Pete Jagodzinski described what he and his wife, Elizabeth do concerning landscaping the three entrances and how much money their efforts have saved CNA.

Becka reported that neighbor, Sandy Allnut asked what the secretarial duties would entail. Sandy announced that she would like to sponsor the next newsletter again as needed.

Becka said that Ashley Blair will remove Everett and Sony from the neighborhood website effective immediately.
